Seeds of Change: A call for Autonomous Gardening

https://greenanticapitalist.org/se eds-of-change-a-call-forautonomous-gardening/

"We envision a world where communities grow stronger and autonomous by developing a mutually beneficial relationship with the land on which they live, tending to it and enjoying the riches it has to offer. The global chain of food distribution is ecologically unsustainable and based on the exploitation of the global south. The alienation from our own environment has damaged our relationship with nature and with each other. We must rebuild them if we want to create a better world in which future generations may be able to live."
